

A BLEND OF TWO FINE AMERICAN BOURBONS AND AN EXCEPTIONAL
IRISH WHISKEY FOR THOSE WHO WILL NEVER SETTLE.

Puncher's Chance™ THE UNIFIED BELT is a limited-release, three-cask blend of two fine bourbons and an exceptional Irish whiskey. First into the ring is a four-year-old high-rye Kentucky Straight Bourbon aged in #4 alligator char barrels. Next is a four-year-old Irish whiskey aged in former bourbon barrels in Ireland. Finally, a fourteen-year-old bourbon finished in first-fill Pedro Ximenex and Oloroso Sherry casks.

At the ring of the bell, THE UNIFIED BELT enters with dark fruit, orchard fruit and cocoa — perfectly balanced with layers of warm oak and baking spice. Its finish is long and strong with hints of vanilla and baked green apples.

In boxing, unifying the belt speaks to a boxing champion who holds two or more of the major sanctioned titles. That, paired with the unification of three unique whiskeys makes this Puncher's Chance™ whiskey one not to be missed.
